CHAPTER 1.

INTRODUCTION

1.1. Introduction

In the light of violent extremism and terrorist attacks that have surged across Europe and have been posing a threat to the safety of its citizens and to its fundamental values of freedom, democracy, equality, respect for the rule of law, human rights and dignity in the recent years, the Erasmus project "Let's build Europe together" (Nummer) was held in the years between 2017 and 2019.

Our school, the Öffentliches Stiftsgymnasium der Benediktiner in St. Paul, sent 16 students on exchanges throughout this project, Bogdan Laura, Gugl Selina, Jeschke Elisabeth, Komar Elias, Lengyel Filippa, Lenz Maximilian, Mlinar Chiara, Neibersch Lea, Schubel Laura, Strutz Mona, Überbacher Elena, Vallant Marvin, Waich Antonia, Wutte Emilia, Zapp Anja and Zwarfl Antonia. Among the participating schools were also the Srednja Škola Andrije Ljudevita Adamića from Croatia, the Aristotelio College from Greece, the Ist. di Istruz. Secondaria Superiore Bazoli from Italy and the IES Joaquin Turina from Spain.

The goal of the project was to gain a deeper understanding of active citizenship, to promote European values, foster active citizenship and social integration, enhance intercultural understanding and sense of belonging to a community. Furthermore, it aims to improve our ability to converse, basic and transversal skills and internationalization. We should also enhance our critical thinking and our media literacy to be as resistant to all forms of discrimination and indoctrination as possible.

To meet our goal, we set out to learn about each other's cultures and the way the European Union works. We did extensive research on our topic for the exchange, which was political organization, legal systems, forms of government in the EU, and proceeded to make PowerPoint presentations summarising the most important facts. Of course, every team had already prepared their own products, for example videos or PowerPoints, beforehand as well. During the exchange in Austria we met a local expert on the topic who works for the EU and had many classes that discussed what we were learning about. A few excursions to help the exchange students get to know the county better were also a part of the experience.

Projects like these always promote cultural diversity and the ending of stereotyping by exposing its participants to other and new cultures and experiences. For that reason, last but certainly not least, this project helped us to forge lasting transnational friendships and gave us amazing unforgettable memories. We learned to understand another country's culture and the people who live there which helped us to grow as people.

19th of February 2018

All members of the Erasmus+ program arrived at Stiftsgymnasium at St. Paul. The Headmaster Father Thomas Petutschnig had a welcome speech and he pointed out the benefits for the students that participate to an Erasmus+ project. Then a teacher of each school had a small speech focusing on the aims of the forecoming activities during the exchange. The coordinator Prof. Giovanni Santoro presented the topic of the exchange and the program of the activities to the students. Then the students performed ice-breaking activities with Prof. Rosemarie Pollanz and Prof. Lisa Baumgartner and they had their first experience as a group. The teachers had a guided tour of the hosting school and they have been introduced to other staff members.

After the break, all students attended a class of musical education where they demonstrated representative dances of each country. They learnt to sing "We are the world" with Prof. Christiane Pommer and then they split into teams: a team wrote new lyrics for the song, another team created choreography, painted a poster and a RAP version of it. Each team presented its product to the others. The lunch break was also an interesting activity for the students from many perspectives. They had the chance to speak and know each other more but also for the hosted students having lunch at school was an unknown experience. During the final class students attended physical education and they played basketball. They divided into teams and under the supervision of Prof. Florian Rabensteiner and Prof. Iris Lammer they had a small tournament. After all, sports have the power to unite people of different nations. The first day ended with the welcome dinner, beautifully decorated by Prof. Dr. Rudolf Freisitzer. It was a great owner also the presence of Father Maximilian Krenn the Administrator of the hosting school.

The students visited the chocolate factory of Zotter and they had the opportunity to taste different flavors of chocolate and learnt about the process of making them. After this sweet experience, a guided tour to the city of Graz by the two Prof. Andrea Pötsch and Prof. Katja Baumgartner was an amazing experience been introduced to the post characteristic places of the city.

21st of February 2018

This day began with a classroom immersion of Latin and Greek concerning the Erasmus+ topic by two teachers Prof. Papachristou Maria (Greece) and Prof. Karin Pichler (Austria). The students divided into two teams (Greek – Latin). The students, who did the ancient Greek class, had the opportunity initially to be presented the ancient Greek legal system and then they formed two teams of role-playing. One team represented the trial of a murder with the constitution of ancient Greece and the rules. The other represented “Antigone”, where they debated about if it was right or not for Kreontas to decide one of the two brothers to be buried formally and the other to be left unburied. Students who attended the Latin class have been taught about the forms of the political system in ancient Rome and they also divided into two groups. One group has designed posters where the political organization has been presented with the form of a pyramid. The other team has created a role playing game of a barber who accidentally killed a slave because the ball of the children who played around hit the knife. The slave owner required compensation from the barber who claimed that wasn’t his fault. An advocate was called in order to provide an acceptable solution for all involved members.

The second activity involved the conference with an expert, where Dr. Johannes Maier (head of the EU Coordination Center of the Government of Carinthia) explained to the students the functions of EU, the form, the decision-making process etc. After his introduction students got involved into a conversation with many questions about the EU and the processes within EU. The conversation was particularly lively and the students very active proving their interest on the topic of the Erasmus+ program. Among others topics during the conference they have discussed about BREXIT, the name of FYROM now that negotiations are taking place, the economic crisis in Greece and the consequences of a possible exit of a member of EU etc.

Foreign languages was the class that students attended after the break. They had the chance to write words concerning the topic of the exchange in their mother tongue initially (2 groups of Austria, 1 Italian and 1 Greek). Then they were reformed into 4 mixed groups of 8 students read a specialized text (in English) on the project and underlined the most important words. Finally the students had to compare and sort the words with the same meaning into four different columns: English, Italian, Greek and German creating a word bank. After the lunch break there was the final class of the day concerning History and Geography with Prof. Rosemarie Pollanz and Prof. Bernd Locker. Students have formed different groups and they made presentation with topics given by the teacher concerning also the topic of the exchange. These presentations are shown by the students to the Assembly in the festival room and discussed about each one with the teacher. At the same time the visitor teachers had a tour at the monastery of St. Paul, where they visited the monastery but also the library with very impressive and aged books written and designed by monks.

22nd of February 2018

This is the day of the second excursion, all participants travelled by train to Klagenfurt. They visited the Government of Carinthia and they had a guided tour in the EU coordination center. There they had the opportunity to perform a role play about the council of Carinthia about the speed limit around the lake. Students prepared arguments for the debate and represented members of the council. At the end the Governor himself Peter Kaiser met the students and teachers and talked with them, while at the same time he had the willingness to have a group photo with all participants. The visit to Klagenfurt ended with a guided tour at the old city and free time for lunch and shopping at the town.

The organized classroom immersion concerned the use of software tools presented by two ICT teachers: Prof. Dr. Eleni Kokkinou (Greece) and Prof. Lena Tomitz (Austria) and involved all 32 students. Students have been taught how to use Joomag to create booklets, Animoto to create impressive video presentations and software created word clouds (from the word bank of the foreign languages class). This way, they have digitized all the material produced during this week and further more. The project evaluation took place also in the Computer Lab, presented by the project coordinator. Specifically, the outcomes were: 3 Animoto, 7 booklets and 2 word clouds and the evaluation. The students finished everything needed for the farewell event and the outcomes of the week. The farewell event took place in the festival room of the school where all project outcomes presented to all participants staff, hosting parents, students and teachers. After the dinner students enjoyed the "Erasmus + Disco" in the festival room of the school.

This was the departure day of the participants, very sensitive and emotional day since most of the teachers were deeply upset. A nice enclosure was the group hug made at the airport that brought tears to everyone's eyes. The aims of the Erasmus+ project have been accomplished since strong bonds have created between the participants and promises of future visits.

Since the main guidelines are about democracy and active citizenship, all the works were centred in the political participation in EU, especially of young people and women. It was underlined the great significance for the students to recognise the role of an active citizen, the way of searching future potentials and opportunities in the European Union and the importance of voting, to express the higher significance of democracy. After this we visited the premises of our school, meeting some students and some teachers, illustrating the project and its aim. At 11.30 we met the major of Desenzano at the town hall meeting room, where snacks were offered to the participants at the end of the major's speech. Then we had lunch in Desenzano.

Friday, 08th March 2019

The Erasmus+ MUN committee operated in a rather unique way, that strayed from traditional General Assembly (GA) committee process, and encouraged values such as respect and cooperation between delegates. At first, after the mandatory roll call, the delegates were split into five teams (four teams representing a country each and a fifth three-member team which would later function as a judge panel). After that, the chairs handed out papers to each team, in which the delegates would find information on ten start-up companies of their respective country. Then, each team was asked to choose one of the aforementioned start-ups, create a brand new product, and present it to the rest of the delegates. Once all start-ups presented their work, the judge panel had to announce the final verdict. The winner turned out to be "MYGRANTS" with their application "Easy Asylum", which was described by the judges as "innovative and helpful to humanity". Committee work was then adjourned, and the chairs gave the awards for "Best Delegate", "Future Diplomat" as well as an "Honourable Mention".
